

What is Ally?

Ally integrates within Canvas to check the accessibility of course files and content. Ally offers tips for educators on how to make course files usable and accessible to all learners. Ally also creates alternative formats of course resources, allowing learners to choose the type of file they want that best suits their needs.

How do I access Ally?

You can access Ally directly in your Canvas course. Within a course, view your Ally Course Accessibility Report from the Course Navigation menu on the left-hand side. You may also begin by clicking on the red, orange and green accessibility score icons anywhere in your course to improve individual files.

Learning Resources

Written Guides

- Ally Quick Start for Instructors
- Introduction to Ally: Increasing Accessibility of Course Content in Canvas
- Using Ally in Canvas: Student Guide

Self-Paced Modules

- A Guided Tour of Ally
- An Introduction to Universal Design for Learning
- Resources for Improving Accessibility

Additional Support

Schedule a consultation with our Educational Technologies team for one-on-one Ally support from an instructional designer.

- Contact Educational Technologies at EdTech.Support@lists.jefferson.edu or call 215-503-2830